

Goldie Bear & the Three Locks

By Marissa Begnoche

Once upon a mixed up time there was a bear named Goldie Bear. It was so hot inside so she decided to go outside for a walk. Now Goldie Bear liked to be funny so she picked some flowers and caught a bee. She put the bee in the flowers and went over to give them to the nearest camper. She gave the flowers to him and said "here these are for you". Suspecting this was some kind of a trick; since no random bear would give a complete stranger flowers, he braced himself and smelled the flowers. Two inches away from the bee he stopped and said "are you alone?" "Yes" replied Goldie Bear. Well just to let you know don't take the left path, who knows what's that way.

Since Goldie Bear never listens she decided to take the left path. On she went merrily prancing through the woods. At the end of the path she noticed a sweet little cabin with bright colors that just screamed COME IN! So Goldie Bear did, after all she was tired. As she walked in she noticed three pizza boxes sitting on the table and three beanbag chairs sitting in front of them. The first beanbag chair she sat on was too smelly. The next beanbag chair she sat on was too flowery, but the last one was just horrible. So she sat on that one, but right when Goldie Bear sat down she remembered that she hadn't eaten lunch.

The first thing she noticed was the pizza sitting right there. The first one had anchovies, exactly 10 of them, EW! I only like eating odd numbers of anchovies. So she moved to the next pizza and it was a vegetarian one, EW, I hate vegetables. The third one was just horrible with moldy cheese and rats, so Goldie Bear ate that one.

After all that walking Goldie Bear was tired. So she went upstairs to sit down and maybe watch a little TV. The first TV had all football channels on it, so she tried the next one. It had every channel and they were in HD, but the TV was pink and Goldie Bear HATED pink. She went to the next one and as soon as she turned it on there was "Dora the Explorer". OH MY GOSH! I love "Dora the Explorer", so she watched that.

Right in the middle of her show she heard a creak. Oh it must be the wind. Then the creak got closer and all of a sudden SLAM! Then a big voice announces "someone has been tasting my pizza". "And someone has been tasting my pizza" a sweet voice claims. Someone was eating my pizza and they ate a whole slice. Knowing there was going to be trouble Goldie Bear turned off Dora and tried to hide. She found a closet and hid. Then she heard a thump and another and another. Goldie Bear started to get nervous and started to sweat. It was filling up the whole closet with sweat. Goldie Bear had two choices, one, go out of the closet and two drown in her own sweat. I think it's pretty obvious which one she would choose. Goldie Bear jumped out of the closet scaring Mama Lock for half a second. Hello my name is Yale Lock have you met my husband, Master Lock and my baby, Cole Lock. Still very scared Goldie Bear jumped out the window yelling "Mommy, Mommy!"
