Once upon a time on a ski hill, there lived a girl named Skierella. She had two step sisters and one step mother. They made her work and organize all the ski stuff, but she wanted to ski!

Then one day a letter came. It said, "who ever beats the prince on the Royal Race course gets to marry him." The prince was famous at ski racing. He won the Olympics ten times in a row!

Skierella just finished reading the letter when her step sisters came in from skiing. When they saw the royal letter in Skierella's hands they snatched it up. They read it and ran out of their condo door to find the Royal Race Course.

Suddenly, a magic ski coach appears with a magical ski pole. She waves it around and says, "slide, slide, glide!" Then beautiful pink skis and purple boots with silver diamond sparkly buckles appear in front of Skierella. There was also orange mittens, a pretty pink ski outfit, a helmet, a helmet cover with a crown, and purple ski poles.

The ski coach told her to make it back to the condo by 12:00pm or everything will disappear.

On the day of the competition, the step sisters fall and the prince beats them. After all of the racers have a chance, it is finally Skierella's turn. With the help of her magical coach, Skierella wins.

Just as she is about to meet her new husband, the noon whistle blows and Skierella RUNS home in her ragged clothes. But on her way home, her ski fell off and she did not have time to get it.

The next day the prince searched the mountain for the person who fit the ski. At last, they found skierella and it fit! The next day they got married on top of the mountain and of course live happily ever after.
